

THE LONG DREADED EUROPEAN WAR IS NOW REALITY GERMANY AND AUSTRIA OPPOSE RUSSIA, FRANCE, SERBIA

SHIP LADEN WITH GOLD AND SILVER

British Seize a Big German Liner.

HAS $13,000,000 IN
BULLION ON BOARD

Cargo Said to Have Been Consigned to French and English Bankers.

London, Aug. 3.—The Kronprinzessin Cecile of the North German Lloyd line, carrying $13,000,000 in gold and silver, was intercepted by four British cruisers. They are said to be escorting her to Southampton. It is understood here that the Kronprinzessin had received orders from her owners to proceed to Hamburg, without calling at any British port.

With the big German liner and her rich cargo in their charge the British cruisers could make her their captive instantly if war should be declared between England and Germany.

The gold was shipped from New York and is consigned to British and French bankers. It is assumed that England has determined to see that it is properly delivered to the consignees.

By many this move is regarded as indicative of England's early entrance into the struggle that is involving all of Europe and announcement of the United Kingdom's attitude is awaited with added interest.

Four Great Powers at War.

Four great powers of Europe, Austria-Hungary, Russia, France and Germany, are now engaged in actual warfare, but two of them, Germany and France, not only have not declared war against each other, as far as is known here, but have not even severed diplomatic relations. This is despite the fact that Germany's ultimatum to France either has been ignored or rejected.

The explanation of this would appear to be that Germany and France are each seeking to throw on the other the onus of beginning the war. In fact, while the nations of Europe are flying at each other's throats, they are vying with each other in protesting their desire to maintain peace and they repudiate the responsibility for plunging the whole continent into bloodshed.

In this curious situation France, according to British opinion, has the strongest justification. She certainly was the last to mobilize and seems to have taken the greatest precautions to avoid frontier collisions.

Germans Violate Neutrality.

On the other hand Germany, in addition to invading French territory without making a formal declaration of war, has violated the neutrality of Luxembourg and declines to give any undertaking to respect Belgian neutrality.

The efforts of the British ambassador at Berlin to obtain such an undertaking have been wasted. It is difficult to see how Great Britain can avoid being drawn into the conflict to protect Belgium and Dutch neutrality and on this point Premier Asquith's official announcement in parliament is awaited with intense anxiety, the British public being no longer under any illusions as to the gravity of the crisis, which transcends anything in their experience.

London maintained her calm to the last moment. A great crowd assembled around the government offices at Whitehall awaiting the decision of the cabinet as to whether Great Britain would take part in the war, but when it was found no statement was to be made the crowd melted away, only a few groups remaining to discuss whether the cabinet, as some put it, "had decided to funk or fight."

Will Announce Policy.

Premier Asquith will announce Great Britain's position in the house of commons. Prior to this announcement another cabinet meeting will be held.

The general impression is that the war party in the cabinet is in the ascendency, but not a word was allowed to leak out of the cabinet chamber concerning proceedings. It was said that Viscount Morley, lord president of the council, and Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor, led the peace party, and that Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty,

PREMIER ASQUITH.

Will Announce Great Britain's Policy in House of Commons.

threatened to resign if the government did not stand by its unwritten agreement to support France against German attack.

It is known that the Lancashire Liberals are putting strong pressure on the government to keep out of the conflict at all costs and it is Premier Asquith is somewhat enfeebled by this. But the average Englishman was saying that the government has no alternative, after the neutrality of Luxembourg has been disregarded by Germany and after Germany's refusal to say what her attitude would be with regard to Belgium.

GERMAN TERRITORY INVADIED BY RUSSIA

According to Announcement
Made by Imperial Staff.

Berlin, Aug. 3.—Russia has begun invasion of German territory, Russian forces having crossed the German frontier at Schwinden, southeast of Bialla, while a Russian patrol entered Germany near Eichenreid in Posen.

The Russian column which crossed the frontier at Schwinden was accompanied by artillery.

Two squadrons of Russian Cossacks are riding in the direction of Johannesburg in East Prussia, fifteen miles from the frontier.

A telegram received here from Koenigsberg says a Russian patrol has entered Eydtkuhnen, on the Russian border. It advanced to Bildersweilchen, near Eydtkuhnen, where it destroyed the local postoffice.

The enemy, according to this intelligence, crossed the border at several points.

The Russian patrol which entered near Eichenreid, attacked the German guard at the railroad bridge over the Warthe. The attack was repulsed. Two Germans were slightly wounded.

This information was given out by the imperial staff. The staff at the same time says that the invasion near Schwinden shows that war actually has begun.

GERMANY DENIES VIOLATION

Military Measures in Luxembourg Are Not Hostile Act.

Luxemburg, Aug. 3.—The minister of state of Luxembourg has received a telegram from the German imperial chancellor declaring the military measures taken by Germany at Luxembourg do not constitute a hostile act against the grand duchy. They are simply measures, the chancellor stated, to protect a railroad connected with the German system against possible attack by French troops. Luxembourg will be completely indemnified for any damage to its lines.

Washington, Aug. 3.—State department officials prepared a proclamation of neutrality. It follows the line of previous declarations of this kind. President Wilson, however, is not expected to issue the proclamation until the situation in Europe becomes more clearly defined. It may be withheld, so that all nations may be included under the single declaration.

AMERICAN NEUTRALITY
DECLARATION READY.

FRENCH COAST IS TO BE PROTECTED

Special to The Dispatch:—

London, England, August 3, 3 P. M.—Sir Edward Grey told the House of Commons today that he had "given France assurance that if the German fleet came into the English Channel or through the North Sea to undertake hostile operations against the French coast or shipping, that the British fleet would give all protection in its power."

GERMAN AND RUSS FLEETS IN CLASH

Cruiser Reports Russian Coast City
Is in Flames.

Vienna, via Brussels, Aug. 3.—The small cruiser Augsburg has sent the following report by wireless: "Am bombarding the naval harbor at Libau and am engaged with the enemy's cruiser. The naval port of Libau is in flames." Libau is one of the principal seaports of Russia and is located on the Baltic sea, one hundred miles or more north of the German coast.

BRITISH RESERVISTS
CALLED FROM AMERICA.
New York, Aug. 3.—All British army and navy reservists in America are to be called out. Instructions to this effect were received here from the British foreign office by Acting Consul General Nosworthy. Many reservists, it is expected, will sail for England Tuesday on the Lusitania.

LINES CAN INCREASE RATES

Commission Grants Some Pleas and Refuses Others.

Washington, Aug. 3.—In a divided opinion the interstate commerce commission granted some of the 5 per cent freight rate increases asked by the Eastern railroads and denied others.

Increases will apply in the territory north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers and from a longitudinal line down through Buffalo and Pittsburg, west as far as the Mississippi river. All class rates and many commodity rates are increased 5 per cent in that section.

CANADIANS ARE ENLISTING

Anxious to Aid Great Britain in the Event of War.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 3.—Determination to aid England in any emergency pervades all of Canada. Nine infantry regiments, four regiments of cavalry, five batteries of field artillery, two companies of engineers and several civilian rifle corps already have volunteered to serve in the proposed expeditionary contingent.

These volunteers already number 10,000 men and the Canadian headquarters staff believes that within twenty-four hours after a declaration of war by England, Canada would be in a position to embark 40,000 trained men fully equipped, to join the British forces.

"Another statement declares that Russia has invaded Germany during a time of peace, "in flagrant contradiction of Russia's peaceful assurances."

INVASION OF FRANCE HAS BEGUN

German Army Pouring Over Border.

FRENCH REPULSE ONE
FORCE WITH LOSS

Kaiser's Legions Are Accused of Violating Neutrality of Luxemburg.

London, Aug. 3.—German forces began the invasion of France without, so far as is known, a declaration of war having been made. Two German detachments entered French territory, moving in the direction of Paris.

One German force crossed the French frontier near the village of Cirey, between Nancy and Strassburg, and another German detachment, probably the Twenty-ninth infantry, invaded the Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, neutral territory between Belgium and Germany, and continued its march on the French fortified town of Longwy. A dispatch from Brussels said there is good reason to believe that this force entered France later.

The German force which came into France near Cirey, which is forty miles from Nancy, is reported to have been repulsed with heavy losses, but this has not yet been confirmed.

Apparently the German army is duplicating the first movement of the Franco-Prussian war. It was on Aug. 2, 1870, that the French and Germans clashed in the first battle of that war at Saarbrücken, where the prince imperial, received his famous "baptism of fire."

Germans Moving Rapidly.

It would appear that Germany is taking the fullest possible advantage of her supposed superiority in rapid mobilization over France.

The plan of the German emperor, according to military observers here, is to vanquish or attempt to vanquish France in the interval before Russia will be able to create serious trouble on her northern frontier. It is supposed that Russian mobilization will take about three weeks.

All telegraphic and telephonic communication between Brussels and Luxemburg has been severed.

By the treaty of London, signed in 1867, the grand duchy of Luxemburg was declared neutral territory. Its integrity and independence were guaranteed.

Longwy is a fortified town of France on the Belgium frontier, forty miles northwest of Metz in Germany. A trainful of German soldiers arrived at the station at Luxemburg. The troops seized the station and the bridges on the Treves and Trois Vierges line in order to insure the regular passage of military trains across the grand duchy.

Luxemburg Officer Protests.

After these seizures the soldiers proceeded to the barracks. The major of the Luxemburg volunteers protested against the violation of neutrality, but in reply the Germans asserted that the railway belongs to them and that they have the right to do what they like in Luxemburg.

According to a newspaper published at Liege 20,000 German troops crossed the French frontier near Nancy. They encountered French forces and were repulsed with heavy losses. This news, however, lacks confirmation.

Germany declared that she is unable to answer the question put by the British ambassador at Berlin as to whether she is prepared to respect the neutrality of Belgium. This statement appeared in a communication issued by the French embassy.

The neutrality of Belgium has been guaranteed by Great Britain and she is bound to protect Belgium for her own safety, as Belgium under German rule would be a never ending menace to England.

PRESIDENT POINCARE.

French Executive Regrets
He Is Unable to Go to War.

SORRY HE CAN'T GO TO WAR

President Poincaré of France Is Needed at Home.

Paris, Aug. 3.—President Poincaré, in talking to a friend, said his only regret is that his high office would prevent him from leading his company of Alpine riflemen in case France becomes engaged in war.

Andre Magino, a member of the chamber of deputies, has taken his place as a private in a regiment stationed at Bar-le-Duc, which is his constituency. Magino was formerly under secretary of state for war and as such had a seat in the cabinet.

STATE DEPARTMENT AIDING AMERICANS

Thousands Are Stranded on European Continent.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States government extended a helping hand to the thousands of Americans who are stranded abroad without means of cashing their checks, or letters of credit, owing to the financial stringency produced by the European war.

Besides forwarding thousands of telegrams through diplomatic channels orders were sent by the state department to all consulates, legations and embassies to use every influence at their disposal to obtain money for citizens of the United States.

All American diplomatic officers were instructed to exchange letters of credit or travelers' checks for "embassy checks," or certificates. These are issued by the authority of the United States government and Secretary Bryan said he is confident "embassy checks" will be honored by railroads, steamship companies and hotels abroad.

FRENCH PEOPLE ARE ANGRY

Paper Makes Bitter Attack on Tactics of Germany.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The indignation caused in France by Germany's methods in beginning the war is voiced by the Temps, which says:

"Up to the last moment the French and Russian governments had given Germany credit for acting in good faith; there is now no longer doubt that it is in ambush. Russians, Frenchmen and Englishmen must stand united against the powers of brigandage, which have just been unmasked."

"We did not desire this war, but since it was forced upon us, with good heart we will wage it. For forty years Germany has prowled around us, with the constant idea of striking a blow with minimum risk, but by prolonging the menace she has taught us our lesson."

IN CONTROL OF WIRELESS

British Admiralty Will Make Rules
Covering Its Use.

London, Aug. 3.—The government has assumed control of all wireless transmission. A special gazette, announcing this fact, says that the government, in the present emergency, has taken over control of wireless telegraphy and that the use of wireless by foreign vessels while in British territorial waters will be subject to such rules as may be made by the admiralty.

The Times, in a special war edition, says it is plain and acknowledged that the duty of Great Britain, which consists in the support of France against attack by Germany and the preservation of the neutrality of Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg against German invasion, must be fulfilled.

CALLS OUT HER NAVAL RESERVES

Great Britain Takes Ominous Action.

FIRST TIME IN HER
EVENTFUL HISTORY

Indications Are United Kingdom
Will Join in Great European Conflict.

London, Aug. 3.—The British naval reservists have been called out. This action is taken as confirming the belief that the British government is ready to take its part in the struggle. The naval forces of the empire are prepared for any contingency. The ships had just concluded their maneuvers, had been relieved and therefore were virtually in a state of mobilization when the war cloud appeared.

The territorial forces of England also are in an equally advanced stage of preparedness without the issuance of an actual mobilization order.

The annual training of the territorial contingent began and masses of men are gathering at the various territorial camps.

The News of the World says it has received a wireless communication to the effect that heavy firing is proceeding in the North sea. The newspaper presumes that German and French fleets are engaged. No confirmation of this report was received.

German Fleet Is Moving.

According to a dispatch from Copenhagen a Dane who had just arrived there from Kiel said the German Baltic fleet is making its way to the North sea. Only an armored cruiser and two old ships are left in Kiel roadstead.

A dispatch to the Central News says the Germans have taken possession of the steamer Castro in the Kiel canal and ordered her to Hamburg. The Castro belongs to the Wilson line, an English company. She was bound from Dantzig to Hull without passengers.

The information was received at the offices of the company in Hull. According to another dispatch to the Central News from Kings Lynn, a seaport in Norfolk, Eng., the British steamer Saxon, which left Kings Lynn Thursday with a cargo of coal for Brunsbittel, Prussia, has been overtaken by the German navy and diverted to Cuxhaven.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Britain Calls Out Her Royal Naval Reserves.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 3.—The royal naval reserves have been called upon by the British admiralty for service. The Canadian government was officially notified of the call. The call is interpreted as meaning that the British navy will be engaged shortly.

The royal naval reserves are officers and seamen of the merchant service who have taken a special course of training in the British navy, have received a certificate of competence and have pledged themselves to answer a call to service in the navy. They are scattered all over the world and many thousands of them are in the port of New York and in other American ports.

This is the first time such a call has ever been made and it is considered most significant.

ITALY MAY TAKE A HAND

War Situation Is Said to Be Considered
More Grave.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The war situation as far as Italy is concerned is considered more grave. The censorship has succeeded in suppressing all news except a short, colorless official statement that "Italy is calm and will not mobilize, but will conform her conduct to treaty obligations."

This statement, according to the opinion of some, zzzans the neutrality of Italy, while others believe Italy will participate if her allies suffer a reverse.

Meanwhile all prefects in the kingdom have warned the press not to publish any military news or movements of troops.

Luxemburg Officer Protests.

After these seizures the soldiers proceeded to the barracks. The major of the Luxemburg volunteers protested against the violation of neutrality, but in reply the Germans asserted that the railway belongs to them and that they have the right to do what they like in Luxemburg.

According to a newspaper published at Liege 20,000 German troops crossed the French frontier near Nancy. They encountered French forces and were repulsed with heavy losses. This news, however, lacks confirmation.

Germany declared that she is unable to answer the question put by the British ambassador at Berlin as to whether she is prepared to respect the neutrality of Belgium. This statement appeared in a communication issued by the French embassy.

The neutrality of Belgium has been guaranteed by Great Britain and she is bound to protect Belgium for her own safety, as Belgium under German rule would be a never ending menace to England.

Servia Appears Forgotten.

Nish, Servia, via Saloniki, Aug. 3.—Austria appears for the present to have abandoned her aggressive campaign against Servia in order to prepare for possible Russian attack. The bulk of the Austrian troops, who were concentrated at Semlin, have been moved to an unknown destination. The few troops remaining conduct a desultory bombardment of Belgrade.

PRESIDENT POINCARE.

French Executive Regrets He Is Unable to Go to War.

SORRY HE CAN'T GO TO WAR

President Poincaré of France Is Needed at Home.

Paris, Aug. 3.—President Poincaré, in talking to a friend, said his only regret is that his high office would prevent him from leading his company of Alpine riflemen in case France becomes engaged in war.

Andre Magino, a member of the chamber of deputies, has taken his place as a private in a regiment stationed at Bar-le-Duc, which is his constituency. Magino was formerly under secretary of state for war and as such had a seat in the cabinet.

STATE DEPARTMENT AIDING AMERICANS

Thousands Are Stranded on European Continent.

Washington, Aug. 3.—The United States government extended a helping hand to the thousands of Americans who are stranded abroad without means of cashing their checks, or letters of credit, owing to the financial stringency produced by the European war.

Besides forwarding thousands of telegrams through diplomatic channels orders were sent by the state department to all consulates, legations and embassies to use every influence at their disposal to obtain money for citizens of the United States.

All American diplomatic officers were instructed to exchange letters of credit or travelers' checks for "embassy checks," or certificates. These are issued by the authority of the United States government and Secretary Bryan said he is confident "embassy checks" will be honored by railroads, steamship companies and hotels abroad.

FRENCH PEOPLE ARE ANGRY

Paper Makes Bitter Attack on Tactics of Germany.

Paris, Aug. 3.—The indignation caused in France by Germany's methods in beginning the war is voiced by the Temps, which says:

"Up to the last moment the French and Russian governments had given Germany credit for acting in good faith; there is now no longer doubt that it is in ambush. Russians, Frenchmen and Englishmen must stand united against the powers of brigandage, which have just been unmasked."

"We did not desire this war, but since it was forced upon us, with good heart we will wage it. For forty years Germany has prowled around us, with the constant idea of striking a blow with minimum risk, but by prolonging the menace she has taught us our lesson."

IN CONTROL OF WIRELESS

British Admiralty Will Make Rules Covering Its Use.

London, Aug. 3.—The government has assumed control of all wireless transmission. A special gazette, announcing this fact, says that the government, in the present emergency, has taken over control of wireless telegraphy and that the use of wireless by foreign vessels while in British territorial waters will be subject to such rules as may be made by the admiralty.

The Times, in a special war edition, says it is plain and acknowledged that the duty of Great Britain, which consists in the support of France against attack by Germany and the preservation of the neutrality of Belgium, Holland and Luxemburg against German invasion, must be fulfilled.

CALLS OUT HER NAVAL RESERVES

Great Britain Takes Ominous Action.

FIRST TIME IN HER EVENTFUL HISTORY

Indications Are United Kingdom Will Join in Great Euro- pean Conflict.

London, Aug. 3.—The British naval reservists have been called out. This action is taken as confirming the belief that the British government is ready to take its part in the struggle.

The naval forces of the empire are prepared for any contingency. The ships had just concluded their maneuvers, had been relieved and therefore were virtually in a state of mobilization when the war cloud appeared.

The territorial forces of England also are in an equally advanced stage of preparedness without the issuance of an actual mobilization order.

The annual training of the territorial contingent began and masses of men are gathering at the various territorial camps.

The News of the World says it has received a wireless communication to the effect that heavy firing is proceeding in the North sea. The newspaper presumes that German and French fleets are engaged. No confirmation of this report was received.

German Fleet Is Moving.

According to a dispatch from Copenhagen a Dane who had just arrived there from Kiel said the German Baltic fleet is making its way to the North sea. Only an armored cruiser and two old ships are left in Kiel roadstead.

A dispatch to the Central News says the Germans have taken possession of the steamer Castro in the Kiel canal and ordered her to Hamburg. The Castro belongs to the Wilson line, an English company. She was bound from Dantzig to Hull without passengers.

The information was received at the offices of the company in Hull.

According to another dispatch to the Central News from Kings Lynn, a seaport in Norfolk, Eng., the British steamer Saxon, which left Kings Lynn Thursday with a cargo of coal for Brunsbutel, Prussia, has been overtaken by the German navy and diverted to Cuxhaven.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Britain Calls Out Her Royal Naval Reserves.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 3.—The royal naval reserves have been called upon by the British admiralty for service. The Canadian government was officially notified of the call. The call is interpreted as meaning that the British navy will be engaged shortly.

The royal naval reserves are officers and seamen of the merchant service who have taken a special course of training in the British navy, have received a certificate of competence and have pledged themselves to answer a call to service in the navy. They are scattered all over the world and many thousands of them are in the port of New York and in other American ports.

This is the first time such a call has ever been made and it is considered most significant.

ITALY MAY TAKE A HAND

War Situation Is Said to Be Considered More Grave.

Rome, Aug. 3.—The war situation as far as Italy is concerned is considered more grave. The censorship has succeeded in suppressing all news except a short, colorless official statement that "Italy is calm and will not mobilize, but will conform her conduct to treaty obligations."

This statement, according to the opinion of some, means the neutrality of Italy, while others believe Italy will participate if her allies suffer a reverse.

Meanwhile all prefects in the kingdom have warned the press not to publish any military news or movements of troops.

Handed His Passports.

Berlin, via Brussels, Aug. 3.—The Russian ambassador at Berlin has been handed his passports.

KNOWS BUSH AND BENDER

Pres. E. E. Marshall, of American Manganese Manufacturing Co., Noted Athlete

Pres. E. E. Marshall, of Philadelphia, of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co., who was in the city last week with a large number of stockholders, is well acquainted with Bender and Bush.

He remembers Bush especially well, for when W. H. Locker, of Duluth, was in Philadelphia, he induced him to attend every game in which Bush pitched and this shows that Duluth people are as much interested in the performances of Bush on the mound as are Brainerd fans.

The Brainerd Bulletin certainly has a crowd of devoted fans.

Marshall is a noted athlete and when on the football team of Yale played Carlisle with Bender in the lineup. It was a great game and the memory of the Indian's charges still lingers in the mind of Marshall.

KNOWS BUSH AND BENDER

Pres. E. E. Marshall, of American Manganese Manufacturing Co., Noted Athlete

Pres. E. E. Marshall, of Philadelphia, of the American Manganese Manufacturing Co., who was in the city last week with a large number of stockholders, is well acquainted with Bender and Bush.

He remembers Bush especially well, for when W. H. Locker, of Duluth, was in Philadelphia, he induced him to attend every game in which Bush pitched and this shows that Duluth people are as much interested in the performances of Bush on the mound as are Brainerd fans.

Marshall is a noted athlete and when on the football team of Yale played Carlisle with Bender in the lineup. It was a great game and the memory of the Indian's charges still lingers in the mind of Marshall.

Would you have better health,

RATIFY TREATIES, WILSON DEMAND

Colombian Agreement to Meet House Opposition.

BECOMES POLITICAL ISSUE.

Many Senators Attempting to Pass River and Harbor Bill to Aid Campaigns—Appropriations Big Factors in Many States and Make Elections Very Easy or Very Difficult.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Aug. 3.—[Special.]—The administration is insisting upon the ratification of various treaties which have been submitted to the senate. This includes the Colombian treaty, to which a great deal of opposition has developed.

A different method was taken in regard to the Nicaraguan treaty and an attempt made to find out the attitude of the senate before the treaty was actually completed, but it was understood that the administration desires to have that treaty ratified at an early date.

The treaty with Colombia will arouse intense opposition. It has already become a political issue and will become more so if it is pressed forward. It has aroused the fighting spirit of former President Roosevelt, and, although Roosevelt hasn't much influence in the senate at the present time, his following in the country is something that senators consider. The Wilson administration, however, has found a way out of these places heretofore and overcome them, and the confidence of the president is very strong that he will succeed with the Colombian treaty.

A Bill With Ups and Downs.

There have been few measures in the senate that have had so many ups and downs as the trade commission bill. No measure in the recollection of the oldest senate inhabitant has been made the unfinished business, the place of vantage, and so frequently displaced. There has been a seesaw made between the trade commission bill and the river and harbor bill. Sometimes it was one and sometimes the other that was holding the place of the unfinished business. It might be supposed that there would be a great deal of discouragement in the way this trade commission bill has been jumped about, but it has had no effect upon Senator Newlands, chairman of the Interstate commerce committee. The self poise and equality of the Nevada senator, under all these trying conditions, is one of the marvels of the somewhat dull senate proceedings.

House Members Are Anxious.

For several days the anxiety on the part of house members has been apparent. Reference is made particularly to those who have important projects in the river and harbor bill. These members have been scouting about trying to find out what ought to be done and what is going to be the fate of the measure in which they are so much interested. The enactment of a river and harbor bill sometimes means the difference between an easy and hard campaign for members of congress.

His Hopes Vanishing.

David R. Francis of St. Louis, an ex-governor of Missouri, an ex-cabinet officer and a man who won enviable fame as the president of the St. Louis exposition, was in Washington not long ago, and his presence recalled the fact that the curtain was rung down upon his political career at the close of the Democratic convention at Baltimore in 1912. At that convention and once before Governor Francis had looked longingly toward the vice presidential nomination as an opportunity for him to round out his career. At Denver in 1908 Mr. Bryan, who controlled the convention, would not listen to the suggestion for a moment. At Baltimore in 1912 there was no possibility of bringing about such a result, as that convention was determined to make a wholly progressive ticket and Francis had been a member of Cleveland's cabinet and refused to support the doctrine of 16 to 1 in 1896. It was just possible that his political career ended at that time and these later setbacks simply emphasized that fact.

Show Great Liberality.

It must be acknowledged that members of the house of representatives are showing great liberality in allowing fellow members to talk on various subjects and to print almost anything they want to see in the Record. It affords an opportunity for members who are anxious to make their political campaigns through the columns of the Congressional Record to do so. Members have been allowed to print their views on almost any subject, and these views are now going forth to constituents for the purpose of convincing the people that the men uttering them should be re-elected.

A Library Post.

Congressman Gillett of Massachusetts has introduced a bill which would give libraries and their regular patrons a one cent per pound postage rate, the same as newspapers and periodicals now pay. If such a bill should pass it would enable libraries to circulate books more freely and be less expensive to patrons of circulating libraries.

The Prayer He Didn't Make.

In a certain parish near Dunfries a newly made elder was summoned to the sickbed of a parishioner. Being naturally a bashful man, he was in great anxiety as to the "prayer he wad ha'e to pit up" and wished to avoid going altogether. At length he was persuaded by his wife and started on his errand. On his return his wife greeted him with the query: "And how did ye get on, William?" "Oh, grand! He wad deid!"—Dundee Advertiser.

Channel Islands' Customs.

The Channel Islands—where there is still in every day use a patois almost identical with the Norman French spoken by William the Conqueror—are the home of other quaint antiquarian relics. A local politician whose election as jurat had been annulled by the royal court of the island on the ground of his having been sentenced to a term of imprisonment some years ago knelt bareheaded at the entrance to the courthouse and exclaimed, "Haro, Haro, Haro, a l'alie, mon prince, on me fait tort." The effect of this appeal, technically called the "clameur de Haro," is to stay proceedings until the petitioner's case has been heard. In modern times the cry has most frequently been raised to interrupt building operations on land to which the title is disputed—much to the annoyance of unsuspecting strangers who have settled in the islands without being aware of this curious tradition. Popular etymology explains "Haro" as an abbreviation of "Ha, Rollo" thus making the cry a direct appeal to the first Duke of Normandy.

The Most Accurate Machine.

The world's most precise piece of machinery is doubtless the Rowland dividing engine, owned and operated by Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore. This machine, the invention of Professor Henry A. Rowland, long the head of the physics department in that institution, was devised by him to rule diffraction gratings on glass or metal for use in the most delicate kind of spectroscopic work in the place of the glass prisms that are commonly used to form the spectrum by splitting up white light into its component colors. These gratings consist of five parallel lines so close together that they can be separated only by a microscope of the highest power. Accuracy is measured nowadays by the limit of error. The Rowland gratings are not perfect because perfection is impossible, but their limit of error is one-millionth of an inch, which makes the engine that is able to draw them the record holder for accuracy.—Literary Digest.

Star Sight.

By all the rules of the game of nature we should not be able to see a star at all, for it appears from the earth as a geometrical point, a thing without dimensions, and cannot be measured even in the most powerful telescope. A star appears in a telescope just as it does to the naked eye. Now the question naturally comes up as to why we can perceive a star, a thing with no dimensions. We certainly cannot see so small a thing under the microscope. The whole answer is a peculiarity of the human eye and, in fact, of all optical instruments, called diffraction. A lens does not focus parallel rays of light to a geometrical point, even though they come from a point, and so a small disk is printed on the retina by a star, and the star is perceived. Remember, though, that only the star's effect is perceived with the eye. A planet of course is different, as it is comparatively close to us, and its actual disk may be seen and measured in the telescope, just as that of the moon can be seen with the naked eye.—Chicago Herald.

Born of an Odor.

Professor Alexander Graham Bell once gave an account, which is here condensed, of an invention founded on a smell.

First, a chemist detected in sulphuric acid waste an odor which on analysis was found to come from a hitherto unknown substance. This was called silenium.

Second, silenium crystallized was found to be a conductor of electricity of phenomenally high resistance.

Third, the new resistant, having been put to use in place of whole coils of wire to balance the Atlantic cable during the period of laying, was found to have at night twice its resisting power of the daytime.

Fourth, Professor Bell playing upon silenium's sensitiveness to light produced the photophone, by means of which one may talk over a beam of light.

The Cynics.

Cynics was the name applied to a school of philosophers founded by Antisthenes, a pupil of Socrates. The main tenet of the extreme cynics was that civilization is a curse, and true happiness can be obtained only by gratifying the most primary physical appetites which man has in common with brutes. The general attitude of the cynics as distinguished from that of the stoics, who regarded everything in the external world with indifference, was one of contempt. They were not an important philosophical school numerically, but attracted attention largely by their eccentricities and insolence. On account of their contempt for refinement their name came subsequently to be applied to any one who takes a mean view of human life.

Citrolax!
CITROLAX!

It's a laxative of course—and the nicest hot weather drink you ever tasted. Flushes thoroughly, and pleasantly, too. F. C. Crayler, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "Have used laxatives for 15 years but this Citrolax has got everything else beat a mile." Try it. For sale by H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv. mwf

Our Sixteen Striped Flag.

How many stripes in the American flag? Thirteen, of course, yet there's an American flag flown legally today which has sixteen stripes. It is the flag of the revenue cutter service, and the stripes are vertical, not horizontal, as in the ordinary ensign. The stripe nearest the staff is red; then come white and red alternately, so that the outermost stripe is white. The reason for the sixteen stripes is found in the fact that when the revenue flag was authorized, in 1799, there were sixteen states in the Union, three having joined the original thirteen. — New York Tribune.

Discretion.

A lion that had been ill asked a sheep if his breath was bad. The sheep said "Yes," and the lion bit off her head for a fool. A wolf, asked the same question, said "No." Him the lion killed for a liar. A fox in answer to the question said he had a cold in his head and could not smell.

She Made Him Happy.

"Shan't we go now, Emma? I feel cold here, and I've got a cough." "You sit still, Henry, and keep your mouth shut. I've got to finish this book on 'The Secret of Making One's Husband Happy.'" — Megzen dorfer Blatter.

Trouble For Pa.

"Where do they wind you up, Miss Skrecker?" "Wind me up?" "Yes, Pa said you sang mechanically." — Houston Post.

Tonsorial Sarcasm.

Barber—Very sorry, sir, but I'm afraid I've made a small cut on your chin. Subject—Ah, it must have been a sharp spot on the razor.—London Punch.

Notes of an Author.

I remember that Frank kept a black notebook in his inside coat pocket, in which he set down a heterogeneous collection of notes of his own observations—a well turned sentence, a good name, the possible title of a book. One of these entries, I remember, read: "The hands of the village clock closed like a pair of shears and cut the night in twain."

This book was his greatest treasure. Years afterward he told me that keeping it taught him the difference between seeing life subjectively and objectively. No one, he believed, could become a writer until he could regard life and people and the world in general from the objective point of view, until he could remain detached, outside, maintain the unswerving attitude of the observer. I read part of his notebook once and got soundly kicked for my impertinence, but years afterward I came upon many of these same notes in his work, amplified and adapted.—From a Sketch of Frank Norris by His Brother, Charles Norris.

Signs of Ancient Paris.

George Cain, curator of the Carnavalet museum, in Paris, treasure house of Parisian antiquities, has arranged an exhibition of old signs rescued from under the pick of the demolisher.

Some are examples of exquisite iron work. Others are delightfully quaint, such as the sign of the old Latin quarter barber, which announces that he "works quickly and silently." Following the name of a herbalist in the same old world district is the request that he be not mistaken "for the other impostor living across the street."

A Belleville store proclaimed itself "a raw and cooked pork butcher." Among signs intentionally facetious is that of a little cafe which stood opposite the gate of a Parisian cemetery announcing to passers that they would be "more comfortable here than across the street."—Chicago Tribune.

Nightingales as Pets.

Although in nature the song of the nightingale does not extend later than the middle of June, yet in captivity the bird will sing up to the time of the autumn molt and will begin again at Christmas. The one detractor from the merits of the nightingale as a pet bird is its individuality. Some birds will sing only when no one is in the room with them, some will sing under any condition, and some will be silent for ever if they change ownership. At the earnest solicitation of a friend I once parted with a nightingale which was the finest singer I had ever heard, and in its new ownership, although it was kept in the same cage and was fed in exactly the same manner as that to which it had been accustomed, it never uttered a note during the remaining seven years of its life.—London Graphic.

New Year Calls in China.

New Year calls are the custom in China, and you have to pay them in festive attire of silk or satin.

These fine clothes (says Archdeacon Moule in "The Chinese People") can be hired, the price being gradually lowered as the hours of the first six days pass by. We complained once of the very late arrival of a caller, who should have been among the first to salute us. He replied that money was scarce and he was obliged to wait for the cheapest day to secure a fine robe already donned and doffed by a dozen of others. During these ceremonial days the whole community seems to give itself over to indiscriminate gambling, a practice illegal and condemned both by Chinese law and standards of morality, but winked at during this season.

The First Airship.

If we can believe certain ancient historians Xerxes was the owner of the first airship. The chroniclers say it was received as a gift from his courtiers and consisted of a winged throne, to which were harnessed four tame eagles. Food held above the hungry birds was the incentive of the motive power, and, it is said, their struggles to appease their appetites resulted in raising the throne from the ground.

Justified.

"Superstitious about all these years! Don't you remember on the evening we first met how a black cat ran across our path and you swore some misfortune would happen to you?"

"And it wasn't a year until we were married! What greater proof do you want?"—Houston Post.

Not a Joking Matter.

"My dear," said Mrs. Henpeck, "I'm positive that our boy is thinking seriously of matrimony."

"Well, I only hope so," returned Henpeck with unusual spirit. "I wouldn't want any boy of mine to be so unfortunate as to regard it as a joke."

That's Different.

His Wife—You would not have half the nervousness you do if you would give up smoking. Himself—Oh, I couldn't live without my pipe. His Wife—Yes, you could. You told Mille Perry you could not live without her before you met me.

Inhuman Monster.

Madge—He broke her heart, the wretch! Marie—Did he jilt her? Madge—No; he insisted on her keeping her engagement when she had a better offer.—Boston Transcript.

Alcohol For Poison Ivy.

An eminent New York surgeon says that the best treatment for the inflammation caused by poison ivy is to wash the place and then bathe it in 95 per cent alcohol.

Genius is eternal patience.—Michelangelo.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it incurable, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven cataract to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment.

F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars to any one who can cure a case of cataract by any other method. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. Take "F. J. Cheney's" Pills for constipation.

Ups and Downs.

"Ups and downs," said an etymologist, "is a phrase of curious aptness. 'Take ups.' Aviators tell us, balloonists tell us, alpinists tell us, that the higher one ascends the more exhilarating grows the air, so that it is quite common, at a height of a mile or so for men to sing and shout in pure hilarity and joy. So much for ups."

"Take downs. Submarine boatmen and divers and miners tell us that the deeper one descends below the earth's surface the sadder one becomes. Those depths resound with sighs, groans, sobs. So much for downs."

"Ups and downs—an apt phrase, truly."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Tight Shoes.

Some physicians assert that wearing tight shoes is in a measure responsible for baldness.

EYES TROUBLE YOU?

TRY THIS SIMPLE RECEIPT.

We all know some home remedy for our minor troubles, and by the use of these remedies many a doctor's bill is saved and doubtless many a life.

How few know what to do when their eyes become tired and ache, or feel dry and inflamed from abuse and overuse? In the morning your eyes feel rough or sticky, or they trouble you when you read. What do you do? Most of us rush off and get glasses (perhaps at some cheap store where no skill is used in fitting our eyes), which we very often do not need at all. Thousands are wearing night or unnecessary glasses which they might better discard and other thousands can, with a little care, probably so strengthen their eyes that glasses might never be necessary. Here is a free receipt to help the eyes of some people; it is harmless and has the enthusiastic endorsement of thousands who have used it:

5 Grains Optima (1 tablet).
2 Ounces Water.
Use as an eye wash night and morning, or oftener if possible. It makes most eyes feel fine, quickly allays irritation, brightens the eyes and sharpens the vision. Many who have used it no longer feel the need of glasses; many others have ceased to fear that they will soon be obliged to wear them. Get the Optima tablets from your nearest druggist and prepare the solution at your own home.

Every Garment Has Union Label

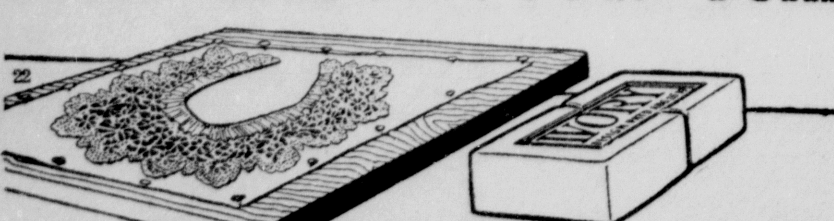

EXAMINE a fine lace collar that has been washed with Ivory Soap. Notice how clear it is in color. How much it feels like a brand new piece. How fresh and unworn it looks in every thread. That shows the quality of Ivory Soap—its mildness, purity and freedom from uncombined alkali.

To Wash Real Lace Collars and Other Fine Laces

Baste the lace to a piece of clean white muslin so that each point and picot is held firmly in place. Make a good lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and let the lace soak for thirty minutes. Then alternately press between hands and dip in the water until clean. Do not rub. If necessary, use a second clean sud of Ivory Soap. Then rinse in clear water, next in blue water and lastly in a thin starch. Tack on a board stretching the muslin evenly. When nearly dry, remove from the board and press thoroughly through the muslin. Do not put iron on the lace. When dry, cut the basting threads and you will find the lace like new.

Star Sight.
By all the rules of the game of nature we should not be able to see a star at all, for it appears from the earth as a geometrical point, a thing without dimensions, and cannot be measured even in the most powerful telescope. A star appears in a telescope just as it does to the naked eye. Now the question naturally comes up as to why we can perceive a star, a thing with no dimensions. We certainly cannot see so small a thing under the microscope. The whole answer is a peculiarity of the human eye and, in fact, of all optical instruments, called diffraction. A lens does not focus parallel rays of light to a geometrical point, even though they come from a point, and so a small disk is printed on the retina by a star, and the star is perceived. Remember, though, that only the star's effect is perceived with the eye. A planet of course is different, as it is comparatively close to us, and its actual disk may be seen and measured in the telescope, just as that of the moon can be seen with the naked eye.—Chicago Herald.

Born of an Odor.
Professor Alexander Graham Bell once gave an account, which is here condensed, of an invention founded on a smell.

First, a chemist detected in sulphuric acid waste an odor which on analysis was found to come from a hitherto unknown substance. This was called silenium.

Second, silenium crystallized was found to be a conductor of electricity of phenomenally high resistance.

Third, the new resistant, having been put to use in place of whole coils of wire to balance the Atlantic cable during the period of laying, was found to have at night twice its resisting power of the daytime.

Fourth, Professor Bell playing upon silenium's sensitiveness to light produced the photophone, by means of which one may talk over a beam of light.

The Cynics.
Cynics was the name applied to a school of philosophers founded by Antisthenes, a pupil of Socrates. The main tenet of the extreme cynics was that civilization is a curse, and true happiness can be obtained only by gratifying the most primary physical appetites which man has in common with brutes. The general attitude of the cynics as distinguished from that of the stoics, who regarded everything in the external world with indifference, was one of contempt. They were not an important philosophical school numerically, but attracted attention largely by their eccentricities and insolence. On account of their contempt for refinement their name came subsequently to be applied to any one who takes a mean view of human life.

Citrolax!
It's a laxative of course—and the nicest hot weather drink you ever tasted. Flushes thoroughly, and pleasantly, too. F. C. Cryer, Syracuse, N. Y., says: "Have used laxatives for 15 years but this Citrolax has got everything else beat a d.d.c." Try it. For sale by H. P. Dunn, druggist.—Adv. mwf

Our Sixteen Striped Flag.
How many stripes in the American flag? Thirteen, of course, yet there's an American flag down legally today which has sixteen stripes. It is the flag of the revenue cutter service, and the stripes are vertical, not horizontal, as in the ordinary ensign. The stripe nearest the staff is red; then come white and red alternately, so that the outermost stripe is white. The reason for the sixteen stripes is found in the fact that when the revenue flag was authorized, in 1790, there were sixteen states in the Union, three having joined the original thirteen. — New York Tribune.

Discretion.
A lion that had been ill asked a sheep if his breath was bad. The sheep said "Yes," and the lion bit off her head for a fool. A wolf, asked the same question, said "No." Him the lion killed for a liar. A fox in answer to the question said he had a cold in his head and could not smell.

Tonsorial Sarcasm.

Notes of an Author.
I remember that Frank kept a black notebook in his inside coat pocket, in which he set down a heterogeneous collection of notes of his own observations—a well turned sentence, a good name, the possible title of a book. One of these entries, I remember, read: "The hands of the village clock closed like a pair of shears and cut the night in twain."

This book was his greatest treasure. Years afterward he told me that keeping it taught him the difference between seeing life subjectively and objectively. No one, he believed, could become a writer until he could regard life and people and the world in general from the objective point of view, until he could remain detached, outside, maintain the unswerving attitude of the observer. I read part of his notebook once and got soundly kicked for my impertinence, but years afterward I came upon many of these same notes in his work, amplified and adapted.—From a Sketch of Frank Norris by His Brother, Charles Norris.

Signs of Ancient Paris.
George Cain, curator of the Carnavalet museum, in Paris, treasure house of Parisian antiquities, has arranged an exhibition of old signs rescued from under the pick of the demolisher.

Some are examples of exquisite iron work. Others are delightfully quaint, such as the sign of the old Latin quarter barber, which announces that he "works quickly and silently." Following the name of a herbalist in the same old world district is the request that he be not mistaken "for the other impostor living across the street."

A Belleville store proclaimed itself "a raw and cooked pork butcher." Among signs intentionally facetious is that of a little cafe which stood opposite the gate of a Parisian cemetery announcing to passers that they would be "more comfortable here than across the street."—Chicago Tribune.

Nightingales as Pets.
Although in nature the song of the nightingale does not extend later than the middle of June, yet in captivity the bird will sing up to the time of the autumn molt and will begin again at Christmas. The one detractor from the merits of the nightingale as a pet bird is its individuality. Some birds will sing only when no one is in the room with them, some will sing under any condition, and some will be silent for ever if they change ownership. At the earnest solicitation of a friend I once parted with a nightingale which was the finest singer I had ever heard, and in its new ownership, although it was kept in the same cage and was fed in exactly the same manner as that to which it had been accustomed, it never uttered a note during the remaining seven years of its life.—London Graphic.

New Year Calls In China.
New Year calls are the custom in China, and you have to pay them in festive attire of silk or satin.

These fine clothes (says Archdeacon Moule in "The Chinese People") can be hired, the price being gradually lowered as the hours of the first six days pass by. We complained once of the very late arrival of a caller, who should have been among the first to salute us. He replied that money was scarce and he was obliged to wait for the cheapest day to secure a fine robe already donned and doffed by a dozen of others. During these ceremonial days the whole community seems to give itself over to indiscriminate gambling, a practice illegal and condemned both by Chinese law and standards of morality, but winked at during this season.

The First Airship.
If we can believe certain ancient historians Xerxes was the owner of the first airship. The chroniclers say it was received as a gift from his courtiers and consisted of a winged throne, to which were harnessed four tame eagles. Food held above the hungry birds was the incentive of the motive power, and, it is said, their struggles to appease their appetites resulted in raising the throne from the ground.

Justified.
"Superstitious after all these years! Don't you remember on the evening we first met how a black cat ran across our path and you swore some misfortune would happen to you?"
"And it wasn't a year until we were married! What greater proof do you want?"—Houston Post.

Not a Joking Matter.
"My dear," said Mrs. Henpeck, "I'm positive that our boy is thinking seriously of matrimony."
"Well, I only hope so," returned Henpeck with unusual spirit. "I wouldn't want any boy of mine to be so unfortunate as to regard it as a joke."

That's Different.
His Wife—You would not have half the nervousness you do if you would give up smoking. Himself—Oh, I couldn't live without my pipe. His Wife—Yes, you could. You told Millie Perry you could not live without her before you met me.

Alcohol For Poison Ivy.
An eminent New York surgeon says that the best treatment for the inflammation caused by poison ivy is to wash the place and then bathe it in 95 per cent alcohol.

Genius is eternal patience.—Michelangelo.

There is more Cataract in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven cataract to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cataract Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Ups and Downs.
"Ups and downs," said an etymologist, "is a phrase of curious aptness."

"Take ups. Aviators tell us, balloonists tell us, alpinists tell us, that the higher one ascends the more exhilarating grows the air, so that it is quite common, at a height of a mile or so for men to sing and shout in pure hilarity and joy. So much for ups."

"Take downs. Submarine boatmen and divers and miners tell us that the deeper one descends below the earth's surface the sadder one becomes. Those depths resound with oaths, groans, sobs. So much for downs."

"Ups and downs—an apt phrase, truly."—New Orleans Times-Picayune

EYES TROUBLE YOU?
TRY THIS SIMPLE RECEIPT.

We all know some home remedy for our minor troubles, and by the use of these remedies many a doctor's bill is saved and doubtless many a life.

How few know what to do when their eyes become tired and ache, or feel dry and inflamed from abuse and overuse? In the morning your eyes feel rough or sticky, or they trouble you when you read. What do you do? Most of us rush off and get glasses (perhaps at some cheap store where no skill is used in fitting our eyes), which we very often do not need at all. Thousands are wearing night or unnecessary glasses which they might better discard and other thousands can, with a little care, probably so strengthen their eyes that glasses might never be necessary. Here is a free receipt that may be relied upon to give comfort and to help the eyes of some people; it is harmless and has the enthusiastic endorsement of thousands who have used it:

5 Grains Optima (1 tablet),
2 Grains Water.

Use as an eye wash night and morning, or oftener if possible. It makes most eyes feel fine, quickly allays irritation, brightens the eyes and sharpens the vision. Many who have used it no longer feel the need of glasses; many others have ceased to fear that they will soon be obliged to wear them. Get the Optima tablets from your nearest druggist and prepare the solution at your own home.

Every Garment Has Union Label

EXAMINE a fine lace collar that has been washed with Ivory Soap. Notice how clear it is in color. How much it feels like a brand new piece. How fresh and unworn it looks in every thread. That shows the quality of Ivory Soap—its mildness, purity and freedom from uncombined alkali.

To Wash Real Lace Collars and Other Fine Laces

Baste the lace to a piece of clean white muslin so that each point and picot is held firmly in place. Make a good lather of Ivory Soap and warm water and let the lace soak for thirty minutes. Then alternately press between hands and dip in the water until clean. Do not rub. If necessary, use a second clean sud of Ivory Soap. Then rinse in clear water, next in blue water and lastly in a thin starch. Tack on a board stretching the muslin evenly. When nearly dry, remove from the board and press thoroughly through the muslin. Do not put iron on the lace. When dry, cut the basting threads and you will find the lace like new.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

NOT A BALL GAME
BUT A MASSACRE

Domnick, Old Reliable of Little Falls, Battered for 10 Hits and 10 Runs Sunday

CTOR HAS STUFF ON THE BALL
Sigma of a Shutout Is Removed by Little Falls in the Last Inning Played

It was a massacre, not a ball game, at Brainerd fans crowding the spring grounds Sunday witnessed when Brainerd clashed with Little Falls and defeated them 10 to 3. Domnick, heralded far and wide by Little Falls as its "Old Reliable" saw up with a resounding crash in the fifth inning and the agony was prolonged throughout the sixth and seventh until old Domnick looked like the proverbial Zeppelin airship when it exploded and hooked in the tree tops, only in Domnick's case they towed the big twirler out to right field and put Manager Pete Newman in the box in the eighth inning.

It was a pretty game just the same, notwithstanding the battle of Stittsburg act perpetrated by Brainerd in those three awful innings. For three innings but one man, and that being Bender of Brainerd, reached first. It was endless ball and airtight pitching on both sides. In the third Bender hit over second base and the incident had its effect on the entire Little Falls team, for not a man was in the vicinity of the sack when the plumped there.

The fifth inning with Brainerd to bat was the start of Little Falls' agony. As usual, the kid end of the Brainerd team started the fun. The whole team had a chance to bat. Ash reached first when Loiner mumbled the ball. Bender scored a run and Bush traveled to third. Gavin hit near second and scored Bush. Victor hit near third and the third baseman whipped the ball home to pitcher Murphy to stop the fleeing Bender. The ball caught Bender in the legs and bounced away and he scored. Gavin was put out on second. Erickson batted the air on the third strike. Catcher Murphy dropped the ball and Erickson shot to first. Larson struck out. Sheffield was hit in the back by Domnick, and that ended the bases. Cook lined one out near the left field fence and Victor and Erickson trotted in. Sheffield and Cook died on bases when Templeton's high fly was gathered in by Berg, in left field. Total results 4 runs for Brainerd.

In the sixth all but two Brainerd men faced Domnick and it was another batting bee. Bush was put out at first. Bender struck out. With two men out Brainerd rolled in 3 runs as follows: Gavin pounded out a two-bagger. Victor hit a stinger to a grounder right to the shortstop's mitts and he set himself for the ball. He struck a hump on the field, carried up into the air and over shortstop Loiner's head and Gavin ran home. Erickson got a hit in response to the roar from the grandstand. Larsons hit landed Erickson on the home plate and he was easy streaking for second and had just reached the bag when Sheffield went out. Total results, 3 runs for Brainerd.

In the seventh, Cook got a hit and later stole third, scooping up a pall ball of cinder in making that station. Templeton hit and so did Bush. They scored eventually.

Newman succeeded Domnick in the eighth. Brainerd was in a hitting mood and commenced to find him too. However no run was scored off his delivery.

In the ninth Little Falls crawled out from under and removed the stigma of a shutout. Loiner hit and later scored on a passed ball. Allison got to first on a scratch hit. Murphy flew to Templeton in a high fly. Stoll's rainbow fly was dropped by Sheffield who made a hard run to gather in the offering. Allison and Stoll scored. Berg went out on first. Lauerman died on bases when Smith struck out and the game was over, 10 to 3, in favor of the locals.

Victor's pitching was superb, striking out 8 men. He had the stuff on the ball, fanning Stoll twice. Gavin worked well, scooping in Victor's shoats.

A crowd of good dimensions witnessed the game. Several autos from Little Falls came to town to see Little Falls win and the only times their auto horns were heard was in the ninth when the down river town took a temporary brace.

Frank Renick, Herman Pantzke, John Cairns, Arthur LaFond and Oliver Bastien were in one car and Joe and William Bastien in another.

McKAY AND KAPLER SECOND

Geo. Trent, Sr., High Professional—Squad No. 1 Broke 15 Birds Each Without a Miss

The annual tournament of the Riverside Gun club Sunday was a most successful affair and was attended by many out of town shooters.

Squad No. 1 composed of George E. Trent, Sr., A. C. White, George E. Trent, Jr., G. R. Kapler of Perham, and Dr. J. L. Fredericks scored 15 birds straight for each man. This happens once in about a hundred times and duplicates the feat performed at the St. Paul Rod & Gun club tournament last week.

High amateur at the gun club meet was Dr. C. A. VanSlyke, of St. Paul, who scored 145 out of 150. Fred McKay of Vineland and G. R. Kapler of Perham, tied for second place with 141. E. J. Goward of Aitkin and A. C. White of Brainerd tied for third place with 140 each. M. W. Thompson, of St. Paul, scored 133.

High professional was George Trent, Sr., of Brainerd, with 145. J. H. Stair of Crookston and H. C. Rinkel of Minneapolis, tied for second place with 142.

Seven squads of shooters were present. Among the out of town shooters were S. J. Eslow, Phil Berthiaume and Dr. H. B. Morrow of Superior, Wis.; W. P. Brown of Minneapolis, holder of the diamond badge, and F. S. Novotny of St. Paul.

START NEW BANK

Bank at Grand Rapids to be Organized by Brainerd and Minneapolis Capitalists

Another banking institution will be in operation at Grand Rapids before September 1. Grand Rapids men in connection with Brainerd and Minneapolis capitalists already have secured a lease on the C. H. Marr building for that purpose. The name of the institution has not yet been chosen.

George G. Alton, formerly state high school inspector, will be the president. Among others interested in the corporation are C. H. Marr, E. L. Buck, Professor Carroll, W. M. West.

W. M. Halfacre, Dexter, Mo., bought Foley Kidney Pills for Mrs. Halfacre, who was down on her back with kidneys so sore he had to help her move. "BRYAN TO BE

Crazy Prisoner Picked up by Brainerd Police States So to Duluth Authorities

TO BE SENT TO MICHIGAN

Norton was a Former School Teacher in Bay City and Apparently a Bible Student

Vernard Norton, who was picked up demented in the streets of Brainerd and later taken to Duluth to join his wife, was taken over by the Duluth authorities and will be sent back to Michigan.

At Brainerd Norton was engaging various local people to act as his secretary and was talking religion, politics and chicken incubators. From letters in his possession it was ascertained that his wife was due to arrive in Duluth Friday morning and that both came from Charlevoix, Mich.

Under the heading "Bryan to be Czar of Russia" the Duluth Herald features the main idea of Norton's crazy ramblings and prints this story about him:

Europe's impending war will be settled without any bloodshed, the entire world will be changed into one co-operative, cosmopolitan republic, with Duluth as the capitol, the working man will labor but two hours a day and Christianity and love will rule. All this will soon happen if Vernard Norton, who says he has recently seen visions from God and who declares himself to be the new leader of mankind, is able to work out his plans.

Norton is being held at police headquarters as an insane suspect and he will be taken to Charlevoix, Mich., tomorrow morning. His wife and infant child came to Duluth last Friday and Norton, who was to have followed her, failed to appear, but was found wandering about the streets of Brainerd. Mrs. Norton reported the matter to the police and a state-wide search finally ended in the finding of Norton at Brainerd yesterday. He was brought to Duluth this morning and he will leave with his wife and child tomorrow. An attendant will accompany him.

Norton was a former school teacher in Bay City and apparently a Bible student. In spite of his unfortunate condition he shows himself to be a well educated and wonderfully informed man.

"First of all, there will be no monarchies in Europe, or elsewhere," he said. "I'm going to combine all the nations of the globe into one cosmopolitan republic with myself as the president. The various kings can remain with me, if they will do my bidding, otherwise they will be thrown out. The czar of Russia will have to go on a vacation for one year and in his place I will put William Jennings Bryan. There is a great man and so is Wilson. President Wilson will be my chief. He is the greatest man living today, even as great as Lincoln. And I'll put Teddy down in Africa, from which place he will not be permitted to return.

"This afternoon I want you and Rockefeller to come out and play golf with me. After that we'll discuss my plans. Go and get me a pillow for my cot, will you?"

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS

FOR BACKACHE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

NOT A BALL GAME
BUT A MASSACRE

Dominick, Old Reliable of Little Falls, Battered for 10 Hits and 10 Runs Sunday

PICTOR HAS STUFF ON THE BALL

Stigma of a Shutout is Removed by Little Falls in the Last Inning Played

It was a massacre, not a ball game, at Brainerd fans crowding the spring grounds Sunday witnessed when Brainerd clashed with Little Falls and defeated them 10 to 3. Dominick, heralded far and wide by Little Falls as its "Old Reliable" came up with a resounding crash in the fifth inning and the agony was prolonged throughout the sixth and seventh until old Dominick looked like the proverbial Zeppelin airship when it exploded and hooked in the three tops, only in Dominick's case they towed the big twirler out to right field and put Manager Pete Newman in the box in the eighth inning.

It was a pretty game just the same, notwithstanding the battle of Pittsburg act perpetrated by Brainerd in those three awful innings. For three innings but one man, and that being Bender of Brainerd, reached first. It was a useless ball and airtight pitching on both sides. In the third Bender hit over second base and the incident had its effect on the entire Little Falls team, for not a man was in the vicinity of the sack when the plumped there.

The fifth inning with Brainerd to it was the start of Little Falls' agony. As usual, the kid end of the Brainerd team started the fun, the whole team had a chance to bat. Ash reached first when Loiner bled the ball. Bender scored a run and Bush traveled to third. Gavin hit near second and scored. Bush, Victor hit near third and the third baseman whipped the ball home to pitcher Murphy to stop the fleeing runner. The ball caught Bender in the legs and bounced away and he scored. Gavin was put out on second. Erickson batted the air on the third strike, Catcher Murphy dropped the ball and Erickson shot to first. Larson struck out. Sheffield was hit in the back by Dominick, and that ended the bases. Cook lined one out near the left field fence and Victor and Erickson trotted in. Sheffield and Cook died on bases when Templeton's high fly was gathered in by Berg, in left field. Total results 4 runs for Brainerd.

In the sixth all but two Brainerd men faced Dominick and it was another batting bog. Bush was put out first. Bender struck out. With two men out Brainerd rolled in 3 runs as follows: Gavin pounded out a two-bagger. Victor hit a stinger a grounder right to the shortstop's mitts and he set himself for the ball. He struck a hump on the field, carried up into the air and over shortstop Loiner's head and Gavin ran home. Erickson got a hit in response to the roar from the grandstand. Larsons hit landed Erickson on the home plate and he was busy streaking for second and had just reached the bag when Sheffield went out. Total results, 3 runs for Brainerd.

In the seventh, Cook got a hit and later stole third, scooping up a pall ball of cinder in making that station. Templeton hit and so did Bush. They scored eventually.

Newman succeeded Dominick in the eighth. Brainerd was in a hitting mood and commenced to find him too. However no run was scored off his delivery.

In the ninth Little Falls crawled out from under and removed the stigma of a shutout. Loiner hit and later scored on a passed ball. Allison got to first on a scratch hit. Murphy flew to Templeton in a high fly. Stoll's rainbow fly was dropped by Sheffield who made a hard run to rather in the offering. Allison and Stoll scored. Berg went on first. Lauerma died on bases when Smith struck out and the game was over, 10 to 3, in favor of the locals.

Victor's pitching was superb, striking out 8 men. He had the stuff on the ball, fanning Stoll twice. Gavin worked well, scooping in Victor's shots.

A crowd of good dimensions witnessed the game. Several autos from Little Falls came to town to see Little Falls win and the only times their auto horns were heard was in the ninth when the down river town took a temporary brace.

Frank Renick, German Pantzke, John Cairns, Arthur LaFond and Oliver Bastien were in one car and Joe and William Bastien in another. The score:

ATHLETICS HAVE NO WEAK PITCHERS

Connie Mack Asserts Position of His Team in Race Proves Strength of His Twirling Corps

BRILLIANT FUTURE FOR BUSH

Mack Believes Also that Wyckoff, Shawkey, Pennock and Bressler Will be Stars

The Sunday Minneapolis Tribune published an interview from Connie Mack which is interesting reading, because it has quite a little reference to Bush, Brainerd's boy pitcher with the Athletics. The story, in part, is:

Some folks are worrying about the Athletics' pitching staff these days, but Connie Mack is not one of them. And since the man who directs the World's Champions in their diamond battles is enjoying undisturbed slumber at night, there appears to be no reason under the sun for the Philadelphia fans to display alarm.

Just who started the calamity dirge about Mr. Mack's twirlers and how it gained such general circulation is a mystery. The fact remains that in Detroit, Washington, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and other cities the experts fill the news columns with stories about the weakness of the Athletics' staff.

"They say you have a weak pitching staff, possibly the weakest in the league; that you will have trouble remaining at the top in the pennant race; that your infield alone is carrying you through. What do you think about it?"

Mr. Mack continued to study the little book for a minute, as if to fix in his mind how far he could look into the future with his fingers, and then replied:

"Let the other teams think that; I hope they do; it is going to make our fight for the flag a whole lot easier."

"Seriously speaking, I cannot understand why the opinion is so general that our pitchers are weak. I most certainly do not think they are. In fact, I will say that, compared with all the others, I don't see a staff in the league that has anything on us. We are leading the race and that means our pitchers have been winning for us. What more can we ask?"

"We have had several slumps in other departments. Our batting has fallen off; our fielding has been mediocre, but our pitchers have continued to win more than their share of the games. Doesn't that indicate that our staff is O. K.?"

"Take Bush, Wyckoff, Pennock and Shawkey, and where will you find four young pitchers doing better work? And all of them will improve. Wyckoff especially has done splendidly for us this year, but he is going to be a better pitcher as the season advances and he gets more confidence. Shawkey, too, is pitching ready ball as a rule and he will be stronger later on. Pennock, who was so fast season, is going to be one of the best left-handers in the game unless I am greatly mistaken. Then there is Bressler, who is giving them some help now and is going to show plenty of stuff when he gets the experience."

"Bush hasn't got into his proper stride yet, but he's coming along rapidly. He showed what he could do last season. I think he is going to be one of the great pitchers. In fact, I look to him to show his true value before this campaign is ended. Then with Plank and Bender continuing to do what they have been doing—and everybody knows what that is—I really fail to see where another team has a thing on us in the pitching department."

Although five of his seven pitchers are now entering on their second full season as major-leaguers, they go about their work like veterans. Bush, Wyckoff and Shawkey are three right-handers who began their careers in 1913. Bush was unusually successful in the last race for the flag, but the others were not used much; they were being given the first year on the bench, a Mack system. Pennock was with the Athletics in 1912, but illness at the start of the 1913 season made him virtually a non-combatant until late in the year. He is a lad yet, but has shown such promise that it is freely predicted he will step into Plank's shoes when that veteran discards his baseball uniform to live on his farm at Gettysburg.

Ended the Boa Constrictor. "All my reading life," says Dr. Frank Baldwin, the Philippines explorer. "I have regarded the boa constrictor with horror and aversion. When I got into the jungle my great desire was to meet a large boa in order that I might do him some very real harm. When I did find one my sentiments were those of pity for the snake. He was stretched across the path, and when the natives saw him they pounced upon him with yells of delight. On the other hand, he seemed dazed."

"With a native for every yard of him holding him firmly he journeyed on legs through the jungle and down to the beach. He wriggled feebly and hissed in a hopeless manner. There they cut his head off with no more ceremony than they would have used if he had been a chicken. Folded as much as they could get of him into a kind of clam shell about three feet in diameter and built a fire. In an hour he was cooked, and in another hour this great snake which had been painfully accumulating fat and inches for years had disappeared. I must say that I felt a little indignant."—Youth's Companion.

A Persistent Scotch Beggar.

On opening the door in response to a very peremptory ringing of the bell a lady found a seedy looking individual whose outstanding characteristics immediately proclaimed themselves to be an antipathy toward soap and water and an open mind on the temperance question. She was about to shut the door hurriedly when he thrust a foot over the threshold. At the same time he pushed forward a long, grubby envelope containing a hair comb, which he offered for sale. When he learned that there was "nothing doing" the blubious one suggested, "You'd mebbe like to gie me the price o' a scone," and to be rid of him the somewhat scared lady handed over a copper. "An' ye'll no' buy the comb?" he asked as he turned away. "Oh, weel, nae doot ye ken yer ain business best." Then, as an afterthought, he added, "An' it's no' much o' a comb onyway. A've tried it mase!"—Glasgow News.

Taking Medicine in the Dark.

Never take medicine in the dark. This is the advice in an interesting little booklet I found in a drug store. It is timely and wholesome and has a wide application. The people of this country are too fond of taking medicine in the dark. They are so credu-lous and so eager to make money that they are constantly the victims of their own folly. A man has made a large fortune during the past fifteen years by writing letters from Spain to persons in this country telling the latter about fortunes left them by strangers on certain conditions. These conditions always involve the payment of money before the fortune can be secured. It is amazing how many persons who ought to know better have given up from $500 to $10,000 to an arrival.

The Cabaret.

"What is a cabaret?" asked the new arrival. "It is the thing," said the city man, "that put the din in dinner and took the rest out of restaurant."—Poplar Magazine.

ATHLETICS HAVE NO WEAK PITCHERS

BRILLIANT FUTURE FOR BUSH

Mack Believes Also that Wyckoff, Shawkey, Pennock and Bressler Will be Stars

The Sunday Minneapolis Tribune published an interview from Connie Mack which is interesting reading, because it has quite a little reference to Bush, Brainerd's boy pitcher with the Athletics. The story, in part, is: Some folks are worrying about the Athletics' pitching staff these days, but Connie Mack is not one of them. And since the man who directs the World's champions in their diamond battles is enjoying undisturbed slumber at night, there appears to be no reason under the sun for the Philadelphia fans to display alarm.

Just who started the calamity dirge about Mr. Mack's twirlers and how it gained such general circulation is a mystery. The fact remains that in Detroit, Washington, Chicago, Boston, St. Louis and other cities the experts fill the news columns with stories about the weakness of the Athletics' staff.

"They say you have a weak pitching staff, possibly the weakest in the league, that you will have trouble reaching at the top in the pennant race, that your infield alone is carrying you through. What do you think about it?"

Mr. Mack continued to study the little book for a minute, as if to fix in his mind how far he could look into the future with his fingers, and then replied:

"The other teams think that; I hope they do; it is going to make our night for the flag a whole lot easier."

"Seriously speaking, I cannot understand why the opinion is so general that our pitchers are weak. I most certainly do not think they are. In fact, I will say that, compared with all the others, I don't see a staff in the league that has anything on us. We are leading the race and that means our pitchers have been winning for us. What more can we ask?"

"We have had several slumps in other departments. Our batting has fallen off; our fielding has been mediocre, but our pitchers have continued to win more than their share of the games. Doesn't that indicate that our staff is O. K.?"
